

June Watts Sacred Circle Dance Weekend Retreat

Fort Macleod, Alberta, August 10-12, 2018

'Beyond Belief'

The theme this weekend is personal empowerment. In the dance we learn steps, but the power of the dance, its essence and energy, lives beyond them. The steps are, literally, steps to the inner power of the dance. The dance is far more than the steps, as we are far more than what we seem.

Prospero, the magician in Shakespeare's final play 'The Tempest', has learned the 'steps' of magic and found a power through them, but he comes finally to the point where he is able to release all the tricks and tools and trust in his own inner power.

Likewise for us, surrendering to the inner power of the dances can help us to release our props, past roles and past definitions of ourselves and dance into the freedom of who we really are. June Watts
